

Hi Everyone,

I just got back from my annual fishing trip to Alaska. The fishing this year was challenging because there weren't a lot of fish around. The highlight of the trip for me was catching this beautiful king salmon. It was an epic battle bringing him in. He jumped into the air numerous times. After ten minutes I reeled him in and I was tired after I did.

Catching this big fish reminded me so much of personal finance. Is keeping your spending under control an epic battle for you each month? Does your debt seem to jump every month? Are you tired of the struggle to get control of your debt? If you haven't reeled in your spending and your debt is jumping up I have one piece of advice for you. Get with the program. It's time to start paying down that debt and it's time to start a savings program. Here at the credit union we'd love to help you. Give us a call and we can help you get that debt reeled in. And instead of your debt jumping every month we can help you get your savings jumping. There's no reason to let your debt tire you out. Get it under control and start saving today.

Till Next Time,
